Hot Button Issues in Planning and Zoning <sup>CEO, CM</sup> Local governments are not able to regulate all uses the same way: some uses have special statutory protection or rules established through case law and require special consideration. This course is an overview of some of the land uses that many local officials find challenging, along with the statutory rules and case law associated with them and options for regulating them. Moderated by Sean Maguire, CDRPC. Presented by Erin Thomas and Trish Burke, Land Use Training Specialist for the NYS Department of State.	Changes in Erosion and Sediment Control <sup>CM</sup> An overview of the July 2016 changes to the NYS Standards and Specifications for Erosion and Sediment Control (Blue Book). The Blue Book provides the standards and specifications for the selection, design and implementation of erosion and sediment control practices for the preparation of Erosion and Sediment Control Plans for the SPDES General Permit for Stormwater Discharges from Construction Activity. Moderated by Martin Daley, CDRPC. 10:30am	CONCURRENT SESSIONS
Site Plan Review <sup>CEO, CM</sup> This course is an overview of the statutory authority local governments have to review site plans. It will address the scope and content of a site plan and the role of the site plan in municipal review of development projects. A discussion of design and the reasons some approaches might be preferable to others is included in the course. Moderated by Sean Maguire, CDRPC. Presented by Erin Thomas and Trish Burke, Land Use Training Specialist for the NYS Department of State.	EPA’s WaterSense for Conservation and Saving <sup>CM</sup> WaterSense is a national, voluntary effort designed to reduce indoor and outdoor water use. It has created several free tools to help facility managers get started saving water. Energy is used for water pumping, whether for treating or heating, so there are significant benefits of saving water, since reducing the amount of water used also reduces energy costs. Come learn about the benefits available to you, our growing list of products and consider joining us to promote water efficiency and conservation and save money. Moderated by Martin Daley, CDRPC. Presented by Janice Whitney, U.S. EPA.
12:00pm	LUNCH
1:00pm	PLENARY SESSION
Clean Energy Communities Program <sup>CM</sup> NYSERDA's new Clean Energy Communities Program offers a means for municipalities to receive technical assistance from CDRPC and access up to $250,000 in funding to implement actions that reduce energy use, save taxpayer dollars, and promote local energy production. During this session, audience members will get a better understanding of opportunities available to local governments through the new program and hear from peers on their approach to pursuing energy efficiency and clean energy projects and policies. Presented by Todd Fabozzi and Robyn Reynolds, CDRPC.

If your municipality has passed a resolution accepting this CDRPC as a training provider, this workshop will meet the State law for Planning and Zoning Boards continuing education requirements (sample resolutions available upon request).
